As to the authracite mine workers, the report says that they benefited by the strike agreement of May 20, last, not only by an average increase of 56 per cent in their wages, "but through the concession of certain working conditions which were considered of importance, although they enmot be measured in terms of money; an additional item of importance to the miners being the partial recognition of their organization, both an investigation by the ilurean in the negotiations and in the form in which the agreement was signed.

The report shows that all the operntors, most of the dealers and the miners, nil gained by the increase following the wage agreement and cost and profit included in the paid higher prices without any compensation.

New Executive of Nation Takes Oath on East Portico of Capitol After Marshall Becomes Vice-President.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington, March 4,-Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey is president of the United States and Thomas Riley Marshali of indiana is vice-president. The Instant that the oath-taking ceremonies at noon today in front of the capitol were completed, the Democratle party of this country "came into its own" again after an absence of sixteen years from the precinets of executive power.

The sur- listen to the address which followed. roundings of the seene of the president's induction into office, however, court delivered the oath to the presi were not so simple, for it was an out- dent-elect, who, attering the words, of-door event and the great gathering of military, uaval and uniformed civil organizations gave much more than a touch of splender to the seene.

In the senate chainber, where the the oath was tiken by the man now vice-president of the United States, there were gathered about 2,000 people, nll that the upper house will entain without the risk of danger because of the rush and press of the multitudes. It is probable that nowhere else in the United States at any time are there gathered an equal number of men and women whose ames are so widely known. The athering in the senate chamber and later on the east portico of the capitol was composed largely of those prominent for their services in America, and in part of foreigners who have secured places for their names in the current history of the world's doings.

Arranged by Congress. The arrangements of the ceremonies for the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson and Thomas Riley Marshail were made by the joint committee on arrangements of congress. The senate section of this committee was ruled hy a majority of Republicans, but there is Democratic testimony to the fact that the Republican senators were willing to outdo their Domocratic brethren in the work of making orderly and impressive the inaugural ceremonles in honor of two chieftains of the opposition.

President Taft and President-elect Wilson rode together from the White House to the capitol, accompanied by two members of the congressional committee of arrangements. The viceresident-elect also rodo from the White House to the capitol and in the carriage with him were the senate's president pro tempore, Senator Bacon of Georgia, and three members of the congressional committee of arrange

On the floor of the chamher were many former members of the senate who, because of the fact that they once held membership in that hody, were given the privileges of the floor. After the hall was filled and all the minor officials of governthe ecremonies were seated, William li. Taft and Woodrow Wilson, preceded by the sergeant-nt-arms and the committee of urrangements, entered lowed immediately by Vice-Presidentelect Thomas R. Marshall, leaning upon the arm of the president pro General Wood, Grand Marshal-Vettempore of the senate.

The president and the presidentelect sat in the first row of seats directiy in froat and almost under tho desk of the presiding officer. In the same row, but to their left, were the vice-president-elect and two former vice-presidents of the United States, Levi P. Morton of New York and Adlal A. Stevenson of lilinois.

When the distinguished company entered the chamber the sennte was still nader its old organization. The oath of office was immediately administered to Vice-President-elect Marshall, who thereupon became Vice-President Marshall. After the prayer the vice-president administered the oath of office to all the newly chesen senators, and therewith the senate of the United States passed for the first time in years into the control of the Democratic party.

Procession to East Portico.

Immediately after the senate ceremonles a procession was formed to march to the platform of the east portico of the capitol, where Woodrow Wlison was to take the oath. The procession included the president and the president-elect, members of the Supreme court, both houses of congress, ail of the foreign amhassadors, all of the hends of the executive departments, many governors of states and territories, Admiral Dewey of the navy and several high officers of the sea service, the chief of staff of the army and many distinguished persons from civil life. They were followed by the memhers of the press and by those persons who had succeeded in securing seats in the senate galleries to witness the day's proceedings.

When President Taft and the president-elect emerged from the capitol on to the portico they saw in front of them, reaching far back into the park to the east, an immense con-course of citizens. In the narrow line between the onlookers and the platform on which Mr. Wilson was to take the oath, were drawn up the cadets of the two greatest government schools, West Point and Annapolis, and flanking them were bodies of regulars and of national guardsmen. The whole scene was charged with color and with life.

On reaching the platform the president and president-elect took tho seats reserved for them, seats which were flanked by many rows of benches rising tler on tier for the aeeommodation of the friends and families of the Woodrow Wilson asked that "Jeffersonian simplicity" be observed in all things which had to do with his inauguration. The command for Jeffersonian simplicity seems to he susceptible to elastic construction. There was nothing savering of courts or royalty, hut there was evidence in plenty that the American people love unlforms and all kinds of display which can find a place within the limits of democratic definition. It was a good parade and a great occasion generally.

Throngs Vociferous With Joy. The inhibition of the inaugural bali and of the planned public reception at the capitol had no effect as a bar to the attendance at this ceremony of changing presidents. Masses were here to see, and other masses were here to march. The West Point cadets and the midshipmen from the unval academy at Annapolis, competent beyoud other corps in manual and in evolution, the future generals and admirals of the army, had place in the first division.

All branches of the army service were represented in the body of regulars-engineers, artillery, envalry, infantry and signal corps. The sailors and marines from half a dozen battleships rolled along smartly la the wake of their landsmen brethren.

The National Guard division followed the division of regulars. It was commanded by Brig. Gen. Alhert L. Mills, United States army, who wore the medal of honor given him for conspicuous personal gallantry at the hattle of San Juan hili. General Mills Is the chief of the militia division of the United States war department.

The entire National Guard of New Jersey was in line, and Peansylvania, Massachusetts, Maryland, Virginia, Georgia, Maine and North Carolina were represented by bodies of elvillan soldlers. Cadets from many of the private and state military schools of the country had a place in the militia division.

Veterans and Civilians.

The third division of the parade was composed of Grand Army of the Republic veterans, members of the Union Veteran league and of the Spanish war organizations. Gen. James E. Stuart of Chicago, a veteran of both the Civil and the Spanish wars, was in command.

Robert N. Harper, chief marshal of the civic forces, commanded the fourth division. Under his charge were politleal organizations from all parts of the country, among them being Tammany, represented by 2,000 of its braves, and Democratic clubs from Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Balti-more and other cities.

Incidents That Marked the Day in Former Years.

WASHINGTON'S OATH-TAKING

New York Scene of His Induction-Story of Jefferson's Simplicity a Myth-"People's Day" When Jackson Took Office.

By E. W. PICKARD.

Woodrow Wilson is the twenty-seventh man to be inaugurated president of the United States, but the twentyfifth to be inaugurated in Washington. George Washington took the oath of office in New York and John Adams in Philadelphia. Moreover, the Fa-ther of His Country was not inaugurated on March 4.

Arriving at Eiizabethtown Point, N. J., on April 23, he entered a harge rowed by 12 pilots ciad ln white, and passed through the Kill von Kull into New York harbor, which was full of all manner of craft gaily decorated and loaded with cheering crowds. The Spanish man of war Galveston broke out the colors of all nations, and fired a salute of 13 guns, to which the American frigate North Carolina responded.

Arrival at New York, As Washington stepped ashore at Murray's wharf the guns of the Battery roared out their saiute and Gov. congress saluted the first president. He was taken to the residence of Samuel Osgood, and for an entire week there was reveiry throughout Finally, on April 30, all was ready for the inauguration. Washington was escorted to Federal hall, then the capitol, which stood on the site of the present sub-treasury at Wali and Broad streets. The streets had been filled since sunrise with walting crowds, and the enthusiasm was in-tense. In the senate chamber Washington was joined by Adams, Knex, Hamilton, von Steuben and a few others, and ail of them appeared on the balcony. Rebert R. Livingston, chancellor of New York, administered the oath and cried "Long live George Washington, president of the United States," whereupon there broke out a mighty tumult of cheering, bell-ringlng and the noise of eatmon. Returning to the senate chamber. President Washington read his Inaugural address and the history of the United States under the constitution began.

Myth About Jefferson.

If you are a good Democrat, no doubt you believe that Thomas Jefferson rode unattended to the capitol on horseback, tied his horse to the fence, and was inaugurated with less ccremony than would attend the taking of office by a keeper of a dog mound. Such is the old story, but it As pure myth and is first found in a book of travels in the United States written by John Davis, an Englishman. Davis asserted that he was an eye-witness of the simple ceremony which he described, but it has been proved that he was not in Wash-ington at the time.

The inauguration of Jefferson, which marked the defeat of the Federalist party of Hamilton, Washington, Adams and Jay, was the first to take piace in Washington. The newly es-Lablished national capital, then but few months old, contained only 3,000 tinhabitants, many of them negroes; the houses were mostly huts and the streets muddy roads. The hig event was thus described in the Philadelphia Aurora of March 11; 1801;

"At an early hour on Wednesday. March 4, the city of Washington presented a spectacle of uncommon animatton occasioned by the addition to its ...us. population of a large body of culture, from the adjacent districts. discharge from the company of Tashington artillery ushered in the d. , and about one o'clock the Alexlat 'cla company of riffemen with the company of artillery paraded in front country he loved. Lincoln himself of the President's lodgings. At 12 noticed this "sunburst" and, draw clock Thomas Jefferson, attended by from it a happy augury.

a number of his fctiow citizens, among whom were many members of congress, repaired to the capitei. His dress was, as usual, that of a piain citizen, without any distinctive hadge of office. He entered the capitol under a discharge from the artillery. As soon as he withdrew a discharge from the artiflery was made. The remainder of the day was devoted to purposes of festivity, and at night there was a pretty general Illumination."

Jackson Almost Mobbed. When Andrew Jackson was elected in the fall of 1828 the people of the west and the radical elements of the south scored a triumph and he was halied as a "man of the people." This character was emphasized on the day of his inauguration the following March, for never before had such a huge motiey throng gathered in Washington. Jackson's wife had died not iong hefore, and he asked that the ceremonies he made very simple, but the masses were too hilarious to heed the request. The weather was pleaswas used for the first time for the inauguration. In front of it surged 10,000 persons who were restrained only hy a great iron chain. Jackson rode to the capitol on a white horse and went through the ceremonies with dignity, and started back to the White House. Then hegan his troubles, for the people broke loose with a ven-

"The president was literally pursued by a motley concourse of people, rlding, running, helter-skelter, striving who should first gain admittance into the executive mansion, where it was understood that refreshments would be distributed," wrote a contemporary, Mrs. Samuel Harrison Smith. In their mad rush the crowds smashed furniture and dishes and seized the George Clinton and many memhers of food as If they were starving. "The confusion became more and more alpalling. At one moment the president, who had retreated until he was pressed against the wall of the apart- the government expert in charge of ment, could only be secured against serious danger by a number of gentiemen linking arms and forming themselves into a barrier. It was then that the windows were thrown open, and the living throng found an outiet. It was the people's day, the people's president, and the people remarkable corn will be placed in bank The same of the sa Taken figuratively, that might not be so poor a description of the plight of presidents in these later days.

Exposure Killed Harrison. For 12 years the Democrats controlled the destinies of the country, and then the Whigs elected William Henry Harrison, who was inaugurated March 4, 1811. By this time transportation was made easier by the building of railways and the crowd that flockes to Washington was immense. It was much better behaved than that which "honored" Jackson, but it was hungry for offices.

Cold, wintry biasts swept the streets of Washington that March day, and Harrison, aiready old and rather feeble, rode his white horse without cloak or overcoat, and with his hat off in salute to the cheering crowds. The line of march was unprecedentedly long, and so was the inaugural address, and then the president led the procession back to the White House. The exposure was too much for him and within one month he was dead.

Lincoln's First Insuguration. Immensely dramatic was the first inauguration of Ahraham Lincoln in 1861. From the day of his election threats against his life were numerous, and detectives discovered and folled an organized plot to assassinate him on his way to Washington. The hig bodies of troops that had been employed at former inaugurations merely to add pomp to the occasion now were used for the protection of the president. As he rode to the capitol ln a carriage he was preceded by a company of sappers and miners; a double file of cavalry rode on each side, and in the rear were infantry and riflemen. On house tops and in windows all along Pennsylvania avenue were posted riflemen. The day had opened cloudy, chiliy and dismal, but as the ""sident stepped forward to take the oath from the aged Chief Justice Taney the sun burst through the clouds and shone full on the bowed head of the man who was to give up his life for the

One very frequently hears the remark, "That fellow is erecting his own monument." No one in the Rockfield neighborhood last summer ever thought that Lester Bryant's record crop of enra would be the means of building him a memorial. No one watching a vigorous youngster put his life and soul into the work as he did could have forseen such an event, and yet if the plans of the Hon. J. W. Newman curry, and they are sure to, the boy will have erected his own memorial. At the finieral of Lester Bryant a few days after his tragic death at Washington Mr. Newman outlined his plan to a few close friends. The plan was so unique and soleasy of hamiling that it was soon after decided upon.

Mr. Newman has bought Lester Bryant's crop of fine Kentneky tested, Bonne County White seed corn from the boy's father and had Dr. Matchler, the Boys' Corn club movement, pick ont fifty bushels of extra seed corn. Ail orders for the corn should be sent direct to Mr. Newman's Frankfort office. The corn will be shipped to those ordering from Bowling Green.

Kentucky'e Boye' Corn Clube. The Boya' Corn club movement is only two years old in this state, and vet big things have been accomplished. The Corn club boys, several thousand of them, are enthusiastic; but better than enthusiasm are the results that have come from the work. When the state champions met in Washington this winter with the experts who had charge of the work in the various states, there was naturally a feeling of intense rivalry. Twelve of the southern states that had been pushing the Boys' Corn ciuh idea for several years, had records of 442 boys that had grown over 100 bushels on an acre. Alabama and Georgia each had over 100 boys with this record to their credit, but both of these states had been organized for elub work for the past eight years. It is very gratifying to be able to write that Kentucky, with an organization of only two years, made a splendid record. Fifty-seven boys in Kentucky this past season grew over 100 hushels of eorn to the acre. How many adult farmers did that well?

RURAL TEACHERS BODY OF TRAMPS

Dr. Claxton Says They Change Districts Too Often.

RESULTS IN POOR TEACHING

Problem Must Be Solved if Real Strong Work Is to Be Done In Country Districts-Is Hurting Children's Chances | a Dark Hour May Intervene. Just a Question or Two.

In a recent address at Louisville, Ky., Dr. P. P. Paxton, compissioner of estneation for the United States, stated' that the rural teachers constituted the greatest body of tramps known. Over 50 per cent of them move to a new district each school year, Don't take Dr. Claxton's word for it. Think of all the rmal districts you' know and see how close his assertion comes to litting your own and your, neighbor's situation on the teacher question. Millennial Work In Cuba.

The Pastor urged his congregation to consider the wonderful transformation In their fair Island an exemplification of the great work to prevail world-wide shortly. It properly rnises our estimation of human intelligence, and of the beneficence of the United States Government, whose agent in this transforming work was General Wood. What has taken place so markedly in Cuba is gradually being accomplished all over

The Scriptures everywhere associate the glorious work of human uplift with Messiuh's Kingdom. I'erhnps muny Messiah's Kingdom. I'erhnps many have expected the blessing to come in another way; nevertheless, all should see the facts and acknowledge prophetical fulfilments. Instend of being disappointed that God is using humanity for the fulfilment of His glorious promises, let us rejoice that mankind may be so wonderfully used.

Best of All-Human Restitution.

As man fell from the Image and like-We went to school and did our tasks ness of God, Restitution to him means in the good old fashioned way be- a return to that imnge and likeness. course that was the way our purents Of all the Restitution wonders, this got their education. In thousands of will be the grandest. Were "every got their education. In thousands of will be the grandest. Were "every schools scattered all over this enlight- prospect pleasing," and humanity vile, ened country we are inflicting the sinful, imperfect - mentally, morally same thing upon our children because and physically-the eurse would still of our habit of thought. Isn't it time rest on the earth. The lifting of some for us to begin to view the child as of man's ignorance and superstition is something more than a receptacle for by no means a realization of what is to the three It's? Isn't school something be expected. If a taste of Divine fabigger and better than we are trying vor and goodness be so refreshing. what will the full draft be!

This message is meaningless to be-Infinitely more, than it did 100 years flevers in human evolution. Disbelievngo? Doesn't life exist in the fields ing in man's fall from the Divine Imwhere crops are growing? Doesn't a age in the flesh, these must logically deny also the Itedemption, and all neers of a book? Is the geography of cessity for a Savior to die for our sins. Surely they emmot count it sin to experlence evolution, as they claim; and if sin has not been committed, there could be neither Redemption from sin nor Restitution to a former condition.

All such theories, therefore, are unscripturul. For this reason they are antagonistic to the Bible view: that man fell from God's Image six thousand years ugo: that he has passed through six great Days ln which there has been a reign of sin and death, induced by Satun, and still influenced by hlm. Under this reign. man has lost much of the Dlvine image, and has become more or less brutai.

Restitution was not due when Jesus gave Ilis life as man's Redemptionprice; but it is due now, for we are living in the dawn of the great Seventh Thousand-Year Day. Messiah's first work as the great King is about to be inaugurated. He is about to hind Satan-"that old serpent, the Devil." He is about to hiess humanity by rolling away the enrse of death.

Nothing of human Restitution is possible, however, until after the completion of the Church. So particular la this feature of God's Pian that nearly two thousand years have been devoted to it, whereas only one thousand is assigned for the uplift of mankind, God is selecting a saintly class to be His children on the highest plane of existence. These are required to be exceptional characters, and to attest their faithfulness and devotion unto death.

MAPPY THE MARRIED?

There are unhappy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes too due to the libress of the wife, mather or duoghter. The feelings of nervousness, the beforded mind, the historper, the pule and wrinkled leee, hollowed circles eyes, result most mice from those disorders peculiar to women. For 17.09 the forming sing the taust naturally have good health. Progging-down feetings, hysteria, het-ilashes or constantly returning pains and cones—are too great a drain upon a woman's vitality and strength. Dr. Pierce's Flavorite Prascription restores weak and sick women to sound health by regulating and currecting the local disorders which are generally responsible for the above distressing equiptoms.

Don't Suffer!

"I had been troubled, a little, for nearly 7 years," writes Mrs. L. Fincher, in a letter from Peavy, Ala., "but I was not taken down, until March, when I went to bed and had to have a doctor. He did all he could for me, but I got no better. I hurt all over, and I could not rest. At last, I tried Cardui, and soon I began to improve. Now I am in very good health, and abie to do ail my housework."

Woman's Tonic

You may wonder why Cardui is so successful, after other remedies have failed. The answer is that Cardui is successful, because it is composed of scientific ingredients, that act curatively on the womanly system. It is a medicine for women, and for women only. It builds, strengthens, and restores weak and ailing women, to health and happiness.

If you suffer like Mrs. Fincher did, take Cardui. It will surely do for you, what it did for her. At all druggists. Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tesa., secial Instructions, and 66-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent free.] @

National Anthem of Japan.

The Japanese national anthem is the most poetically-worded in the world with the possible exception of the Norwegian, "Ja, vi elsker," written by Bjornsterne Hjornson. That is, of course, a mutter of opinion, but the Japanese anthem is commendably short and makes, in its English form, an eminently pleasing poem Its ten lines are as follows:

Until this grain of sand, Tossed by each wavelet's freak, Grow to a cloudgirt peak, Towering above the land; Untli the dewy flake Beading this blossom's gold Sweii to a mighty lake-Age upon untold

In no case can the business be conducted as a side line of general farming. It is impossible to allow crops that are grown on the farm without damage to the crops and by such practice secure double returns from the same piece of land.

Orchards or cornfields are ideal for this purpose and the presence of the chlekens in them is beneficial rather than detrimental, as they will destroy large numbers of insects injurlous to the crops. The movable colony house which is rapidly coming into general use on the farm makes it possible to scatter the chickens out over the fields.

This method is especially valuable for handling the young stock, as it gives freedom to the birds. The result will be stronger, more vigirous to the fields where small grains have which remain on the field.

The production of eggs on the farm ls always more profitable than the production of market ponitry. Less equipment is necessary to carry on tion, feeding and care of the poultry. The product should be ready for the market when the prices are highest.
